Wassurore, March 12th, 1860.
The wheels of legislation moved slowly hast week; there is very little done to show for a week's work. On Saturday there was no session. Friday was consumed to small purpose, is the Senate, Mr. Hyatt, who figures as a State winner, managed before that acquat body, ris fide three years, esclosing and improving forty seres, building a dwelling, in which he shall live, he shall receive a Federal Patent therefor, free of cost. Sections two, three, four and five, in the Senste, Mr. Hyatt, who figures as a State prisoner, appeared before that august body, to "pure himself of the contempt" of disobeying the lavestigating Committee's summonts to appear before it and testify in relation to the John Ersen affair. He submitted his defense is writing, which the Clerk began to read from a large roll of manuscript, covering several hundred foolean pages! This was more than Sensters had bargained for. Mason objected to the fariher reading, remarking that "it was apparent that under the pretext of answering its simple question propounded to him, the winces had goes into an interminable legal argument denying the jurisdiction of the Senate, and their power to inforce his attendance." He moved that "the further reading be dispensed provide for details and contingencies.

Section 6th provides that when there shall be Section 6th provides that when there shall be 20,000 inhabitants in any Territory, the Legislature thereof shall provide by law for the election, by the people, of a flovernor, Secretary, Judges, Attorney-General, Marahal, and all other Territorial officers now appointed by the President. The remaining sections of the bill relate mainly to the mode of governing the Territory, and prescribing the duties of the variou, officers and their compensation. Section nine provides that whenever there is a sufficient number of inhabitants in any Territory to form number of inhabitants in any Territory to form a State Government, and they have made a Constitution and ratified it, by a fair vote of the Constitution and ratified it, by a fair vote of the people, such Territory shall be admitted into the Union as a sowereign state,—the Constitution being Republican in form.

The object of Judge Kellogg's bill is to confer on the people the power to govern themselves, and elect their own officers, from Governor-down. To eprinciple of the bill yields nothing to the down of Squatter Sovereignty, as all power to moved that "the further reading be dispensed with, and the witness be incarcerated in jail until he will consent to obey the mandate of the Senate." As might be expected, a discussize on this motion sprung up as long as Bysti's special ples. Finally, it was compro-mised by directing the Clerk to read the docu-ment, But not a soul staid to listan to it. The clerks took turns at reading, to relieve of the principle of the bulk years assumed to the dogma of Squatter Sovereiguty, as all power to be wielded by the people of a Territory will be delegated to them by Congress, which is the fountain of authority over the Territories, under the Constitution, which expressly confers tash other. The last page was not finished un-til nightfall, when the pro. tem. Chairman de-chared the Senate adjourned. Hyaft was taken ia costody by the Sergeant-at-arms, and may again appear to-day. If he had a defensible le-pal objection, it was drowned in his ocean of words, and will never be fished out. As he under the Constitution, which expressly coniers upon it the power "to make all needful rules and regulations for the Territories."

But while Kellogg's bill is strictly within the limits of Republican principles, it strikes a fatal blow at the specious humbug of which Douglas is the father. Douglas' scheme confers no Popular Sovereignty on the people, while channeling contenting to clothe them with the professes to know nothing about Harper's. Fer-ry or frown's raid, it strikes me that his best course would have been to have obeyed the summent, and testified that he was a "know nothing." No good end is effected by the co-centricity or amartness be has exhibited. shamefully pretending to clothe them with the power to govern themselves. This bill of Judge Kellogg's will not only endow an immigrant with a free home on which to live, but it will prevent scaling or amariness he has exhibited.

In the House, Mr. Gurley, from the Committee on Printing, reported a joint resolution, the bject being to give the House the control of twa printing. the horrible abuse of executive power witnessed in Kunsas under Dougla,'s miserable bill. The President would not be able to pack a Territory in Kamsa under Dougla.'s miserable bill. The President would not be able to pack a Territory with pro-slavery refilians for Governor, Secretary, Judges, &c., armed with vetoes, passes, and federal bayonets, to oppress and plunder the inhabitants who may be opposed to slavery. If this bill should become a law, there would be liftle danger of any more alare States ever being carred out of the Territories now belonging to the United States, or that may hereafter be acquired from Mexico. Give the people free homesteads, and confer on them genuine Popular Sovereignty, and the Republicans will risk the result. Six this bill will meet with a stern resistance from the Democrats is both branches of Congress. Douglas himself will stoutly oppose it, unless, in the measurine, he can get the Supreme Court to decide that slavery shall go into any Territory, and can not be sholished by the fighabitants or by Congress. It is true he may set up his "unfriendly legislation" doctrine, but that is subject, first, to the sets power of the Ooveroor, as provided in Douglas, Kansas Kebraska bill, and, second, to the opinion of the Dred Scott Court, which he know (and dwires) will decide it to be unconstitutional. Douglas lakeaps to the sleve breading wrinteracy; he lives on the unpaid shoor of slaves, and where a man's interests are, there also are up to be found his principles.

Later from the Frestats. seven being to give the House the control of its evaprinting. As the law now stands, the printer of the branch of Congress first ordering its printing of long documents, does the work for both Houses. The result is, that the Sen-striction now has nearly all the work to do, making the printing has become a complete mo-legery with the Senate. The consequence is, that the House senate is resident when it the and the printing has become a complete molagely with the Senate. The consequence is, that the House cannot get printing done in the proper time. The proposed change would add sothing to the expense, but would equalize the synt done. The law in its present shape was read hat year by the Democrats in anticipation that they might be besten in the organization of the House. It was a smart trick to alton the House, and thereby keep all the profits set of the hands of the Republican printer.

Simino of Ohio immediately objected. "He sould see no good to be accomplished by the "mediation; it was only a seramble about spoil, and he had no objection to the Senate printer getting all the plunder." This was the special for the fire-catera to "pitch in," and

We have the charge in full, but do not put it in type from its main features of resemblance to the charge to the jury in the Hossack case, which was given in our columns. One point made streamonaly by the defence seems to be so squarely met by the following that we copy from the charge.

There is no disguising the fact that the nom-ination of Mr. Bates would give much offense not only to German Republicans, but to the entire radical element of the party, and this fact will undoubtedly be duly considered by the Chicago Convention. The Postiff's visions are only of the Immaou-late Conception, treading under her feet, not the scrpent, but his great Imperial political enemy. This pet Madonas of his, the Sins Lab, the new dogma and mystery which constitute the great schievement of his Postificate, is balm upon the sores of his wounded soul. with all his thoughts and feelings, and he wonders how other men can be so utterly engreased with mere worldly concerns. "They all plague themselves about listly, and no one thinks of Mary," he says; "they talk about independence, and to be so thinks of Mary," he says; "they talk about independence, and do not see that they are under the thraldom of the Devil." A few days ago he was walking out of the Forta Angelina, preceded and followed by his Noble (guards, accompanied by two Monsignori. He was conversing with these prelates on the shove matters, when he stopped short before an old countryman who was kneeling on the high road, soliciting his blessing. "Are you a Christian?" asked the Pope, and as the poor fellow, all taken aback, was dumb, the question was again and a rain repeated with sharp eagerness. "I case your Holiness, I am," ("Santo Padrs, si,") at last stammered out the countryman." Do you know the ten commandments?" pursued the apostolical catechist. This policy chiefly stands in the way of a per-manent settlement of the question. I believe there is no danger of its becoming the perma-nent policy of the country, for it is based on a public indifference. There is subody-that "don't nent policy of the country, for it is based on a public indifference. There is mobody that "don't care." ALL THE PROPILS DO CARS! ONE WAY OF the other. (Great appliance.) I do not charge that its author, when he says he "don't care," states his individual opinion; he only expresses his policy for the government. I understand that he has never said, as an individual, whether he thought elsevery right or wrong—and he is the only man in the unition that has not! Now sucks policy may have a temporary run; it may apring up as necessary to the political prospects of some gentheme; but it is utterly baseless; the people are not ind florent; and it can therefore here no durability or permanence. But suppose it could! Then it could be maintained only by a public opinion that shall say "we don't care." There must be a change in public opinion, the public mind must be so far debauched as to square with this policy of caring not at all. The people must come to consider this as "merely a question of dollars and cents," and to belive that in some places the Almighty has made alwery necessarily eternal. This policy can be brought too the say horestly "we don't care." If not, it can never be maintained. It is for you to say whether that can be done. [Applauce.] ject to fits of ungovernable irritation is a matter no none seems to doubt. Moments of maudin depression follow close upon periods of hysteric elation.

He is greatly addicted to a retrospective survey and vindication of his own conduct; he strives hard to best peace with himself, so reconcile his liberal freaks of the earlier with the severe reactionary measures of the lister part of his reign. He is, in his own conceit, the maneward against, sever sinning; and while the thoughts of impending evils crowd upon him, he takes shelter in his favorite retreat of the "catacomba," or args, with a climax of an thusiasm, "We shall renew for the world's edification Celestine V.'s sublime act of self-denial; we shall repair to a cloister; we shall put one smoot's freet, and resign the tiars to another strong enough to bear its burden." The conflict of discordant passions then frequently overpowers him, so that he sinks down in his arm-chair, such his sanguises, and as the same time, pusillanimous smod, wasders vaguely among the uncertain contingencies of the future a phantasmageria of bright or dask objects then works fifully on his exhausted brain; the cross, the glory of marryrdom, smiles upon him, presently a still holier fancy fifts before him—it is the image of the limnarial than the same time, pusillanimous smid, wasders vaguely and the strip is the cross, the glory of marryrdom, smiles upon him, presently a still holier fancy fifts before him—it is the image of the limnarial than the same time, pusillanimous smid, wasders vaguely and the same time, pusillanimous smid, wasders vaguel

Robbing the Drad.—A few days ago we gave an account of the drowning of Thomas Taylor, near Tiskilawa, Bureau County. His wordy was taken to a school house, near by, where three men were left in charge of it, while the Coroner was sent for. Two of the men went to a house near by to obtain refreshments, and while they were absent the third man robbed the body of some $50 in oash. The thief has been arreaded and is an prison.

Strange.—We are informed upon tolerable authority that about a year since a man—whom we will call Brown—was confined in our country gail for larceny. During his inearceration he revealed to his layver that he had some $1.00 buried in Dunleith, and he farmished the layver with a chart giving the exact locality. It is asid that the lawyer went over the next night and succeded in raising the money. The legal gentlemen is not at present in town. There is no doubt as to the truth of the occurrence.—Duboque Headl.

String Wheat.—There is a fair prospect that the ground which was fall-plowed, will very soon be in a tolerably fair condition for the reception of Spring Wheat—high and dry soils especially. The experience of our best wheat growers, prove that early sown wheat is uniformly the best, and indicates that the seed should be put in as early as possible, as soon as the surface can be stirred without inconvenience, even if the frost is not entirely out of the ground. March sown wheat is invariably of better quality, will generally jield quite as well, grown lighter straw, and consequently is least inable to lodge or rust, than later sown. Besides the harvest is earlier, thus prolonging the time and lessening the expense of this operation.—Berish (Wis. Compant.

Wheat.—Reports of serious injury to the wheat, from freezing out, are made from Pike, Knox, and some of the Spithers counties, as we noticed last week, but from Northern Indiana the news is more cheerful. Better wheat, it is said, was never seen at this season.

Springeles, Feb. 14, 1800.

since the opening of February, on the "Sand Hills" claims. The San Andreas Ledgenderit gives the average of dust per week taken out in the three camps of Poverty Bar, Camanche and Lancha Plana at $22,000.

The Nevada Journal. of Feb. 10, reports merry times at Gold Bar, where "last week three hands took out $250.0" All the hands had averaged $4 a day for months back, but lately they have made $50 a day. This is on ground that has been long ago worked over on the surface and the bottom neglected. At Gold Point the hands are averaging $14 a day. On Boulder Bar, half a mile above Gold Bar, the hands average $5 to $6a ady. The mores of Chalk Bluff and Red Bog have just completed a 13-mile plitch, by means of which they think they have water enough to lay bare the gold in the most astonishing manner.

Gol. Fremont is sending down from his mills to San Francisco a chunk of gold, about the size of a Philadelphia brick, every week.

Of course the Washoe excitement overlops all others. The papers have been faithfully laboring to show miners that it is capital and machinery, not naked hands, that can find profit there, and that those who are "getting a color in the pan" elsewhere, better not resh to Washoe. Still there begins to be a hum of preparation to be off, over the frowning Sierras, and into the snow; they will doubtless find starvation and silver there. these maning regions, can or will do, or cited anything therefrom at the first onset, or for a few months, until they learn the art and run of few months, until they learn the art and run of mining here. Let new comers mark well this remark, and if they shall do as thousands did last summer, leave the diggins after a short and imperfect trial, crying "no gold," or "hoe much hard work and uncertainty." I want all persons to remember back to those words which I above prognosticate.

The travel to the mountain mines has been perfectly astonishing during the past fifteen days. In a single day last week, 157 persons passed up through the Golden Gate canon alone, which road is but one of three or four several directions of emigration. Opening leads and working them i carried on, at present, pretty extensively. Some sides and slopes of the mountains are almost free from anow, and have had mild weather for the past five weeks.

The merriest man in California left it on Friday last, with a new gold watch in his pocket, inscribed on the case "To Coi. E. D. Baker, from his San Francisco friends." The Colonel had already taken up his family and settled them in Oregon, whither now he has gone. He means to devote himself "exclusively to his profession;" to practice law with a single eye, and go to the United States Secate in place of Gen. Jo. Lane, if the thing is possible. Everybody misses him. On the stump he was delightful; on the platform he was delicious, at the bar, the aweaing wittens laughed aloud on the stand as the Colonel cross-examined him, the jury cheked hard to keep down they laughter, the judge could scarcely look solemn, and his accused client smiled out of his palor and his fear. It is like losingsour biggest molar to have the Colonel plucked away from us; but then there was no chance ever to go'to the Senpassed through the various mountain disgingly, at a test that it is the richest gold country he has ever been in, and he has spent ten venrs in Galifornia and Australia. Very intelligent Mountain City correspondent states that it is thought the whole mining district will average a rich lead every three hundred feet, and the intermediate spaces interworen by feeders, like the veins of the human system, all leading into larger and more important ones. In working that ditch on Clear Crask lately, the laborers struck on a lead, and took out of a small space some inventy beautiful gold-bearing quarts apecimens, several of which contained from $2 to $2.50 of the pure hard gold.

When things get fully fixed out here, mining can be readily and profitably prosecuted all the year round. To show what some can accomplish while others do not, i will here state what is every where known here—that, near the Nevada gulch, in the month of November last, when everybody was starting away for the valleys or the States, a poor, common looking, old man, who apparently had no energy whalever about him, but It himself a rude cabin on his claim, and continued working thereon ever since, crow-baring the earth during frosty weather, hauling it into his cabin to thaw before the fog fire, and washing it afterward in his rocker, in his cabin, has, in the past three months, made thereby above his living the handsome pile of $2,000, while others let or loafed.

It is my belief that that great natural watershed region, or quadrilateral table mountain, so to speak, from the four several corrers of which the great-Arkansas, the Bio Grande, the Platte and the Colorado rivers take their rise and flow in their several opposite directions—one to the Gulf of Marico, the other to the the full of California, the other to the the tother to a few and one model in the work of the curt to the Mississippi river near Omnha, Nebrasks: I say it is my belief that, enveloped one modelic delation has event and read and modelic delation has event and read of the s make and publish this as my hast will and testament.

First—After all my just debts and liabilities are paid, I give and bequeath to my friend John A. httilyme, of San Francisco, the sum of ten thousand dollars.

SECOND—All the rest and residue of my estate, both real and personal, I give and bequeath to my friend George Wilkes, of the city of New York.

THIRD—I hereby make, constitute and appoint my friends George Wilkes, John A. McGlynn and Andrew J. Butter, executors of this my last will and testament, and also declare that no sureties shall be required from them or either of them.

Last—I hereby revoke all wills and codicils by me heretofore made, and declare this to be my only last will and testament.

In witness whereof, I have hereto set my hand and seel, at the city of New York, this second day of January, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-nine.

POLITICAL. ike and publish this as my last will and testa-

The Republicans held their primary meetings on Saturday evening—very spirited, well attended gatherings. A rumor has gone abroad that there would be an effort to pieuge the delegates from this State to Chicago te stand by Col. Fremont for the Presidency. Learnot learn that this effort even as removed has the Colone's consent. But some of the Republicans, whose politics root well down into their being, say that nobedy should be talked of at Chicago but Saward. They express an auxiety to hook on the distinguished New Yorker just as, in the past, the friends of Harry Clay hooked on to him, sad would not let go till he was in his metallic coffin. The tickets run at the Primary Election were, not as between the friends of Fremont and Saward, but as between the latter and those who would pleage themselves to stand by the nomines of Chicago wheever he might be. The result was decidedly in token of the fact that Sward is the City's first choice. But Fremont never had so many firends in California. that Seward is the City's first choice. But Fremont never had so many firends in California as fie has today. During the past foxyyears he has stuck closely to his business, and his soccess at it testifies how practical a man he is. The Colonel himself seldom is seen in 40wn. Jessie is more often seen here, the care of their place near the mission seeming to devolve sepon her hands.

Speaking of famous women, Mrs. Siza W. Farnum is living at Santa Cruz, about 100 miles down the coast, from which place ahe sent up to the Bulletin, last week, a long letter on spiritualism, in which it is apparent that even her strong mind has jo.ned the Ham, whose name all San Franciscans call with respect, company of which Jack Williams and several who are in the Stockton Asylum are notable prophets. elegantly expressed; but, nevertheless, I have my faith that way.

There have been about a hundred leads in all discovered and prospected within a radius of five or six miles from the centre of Gregory's Diggings, from many of which fortunes have been made. Parties in some cases, last season, taking out $13 and $50 in the single pan, from rich pockets or rather crevices.
